Professional Development for a VUCA World

Our USP's

Comprehensive Candidate Evaluation for Informed Decision-Making

At AdC, we provide our clients with detailed "Skills Assessment" reports, offering a thorough analysis of candidates' progress and observations throughout their training and coaching periods. These assessments are scientifically designed to provide an accurate and objective overview of both technical competencies and soft skills, highlighting the strengths, areas for improvement, and overall development of each candidate. By tracking these aspects over time, our "Skills Assessments" give clients a clear understanding of a candidate's potential in the context of their role. This data-driven approach helps our clients make well-informed decisions, ensuring they select candidates whose skills and profiles are a strong fit for the job at hand, while also identifying potential areas for further development. Ultimately, these assessments enhance the recruitment process by providing a clear, measurable understanding of a candidate's readiness for the professional environment.
